
GUNTHER UHLMANN, University of Washington

The Calderon problem with partial data

We will consider in this talk the inverse problem of determining the electrical conductivity inside a medium by making voltage and current measurements on subsets of the boundary. We will state and outline the proofs of some recent results on this problem.