RICK JARDINE, University of Western Ontario
Cocycle categories

This talk defines and gives applications of cocycle categories. The path components of such categories define morphisms in homotopy categories arising in a variety of algebraic and geometric settings. Applications in non-abelian cohomology theory, including the homotopy classification of gerbes, will be displayed.